Hotel owner applies for exemption from by-law

Rockcliffe Tavern owner Dave Willis has made an official application to Minden council to have his business exempted from the anti-noise by-law that has kept him in the courts for nearly two years.

The application is Willis' second to council in his fight to have the by-law changed. At the January 27 meeting of council Willis requested amendments to the by-law that would allow noise from entertainment at the tavern to continue until 1 a.m. The existing by-law, under which Willis was charged in June of 1979, prohibits such noise after midnight.

Willis told council that his business is "caught in the middle" between two government bodies. While his LLBO licence allows him to serve liquor and provide entertainment until one o'clock, they by-law limits noise at midnight. "I'm licenced by one body and I'm restricted by another," he said.

Council has received at least one objection from a citizen who does not want the by-law amended. The council has not made the letter public, but it is considering Willis' request for access to the correspondence along with the application for exemption.

Willis said in an interview that he has learned from a legal advisor of the Department of Inter-Governmental Affairs that he has a right to see the contents of the letter. The Municipal Act states, however, that all correspondence received by the council as a Committee of the Whole remains confidential unless the Committee decides otherwise.

Willis also said that he has talked privately with council members who have said they would like to see the by-law changed. He said that unless his business is exempted from the by-law, he risks being charged under the criminal act by the OPP. Willis said that such charges would first entail a warning, and that the second offence would mean the removal of his sound equipment and a possible fine and jail term. "I guess that's my next step," Willis said, "I'll be writing all my letters to council from jail."

Council is awaiting information from the Minden OPP before making a decision on the applications from Willis. There is still some question as to the OPP's authority in matters relating to the anti-noise by-law.

In presenting his application for exemption at the February 10 meeting of council, Willis cited traditional festivals in Minden which are exempt from the by-law, such as the Mayfest, the Kinsmen Winter Carnival, and the Rotarian OctoberFest. Willis described the Rockcliffe as a tradition in Minden. He explained to council that it was built in 1900 and has had its present name since 1942, which makes the hotel as old as any of the exempted festivals. The previous owners of the Rockcliffe were responsible for starting the Minden Winter Carnival before turning it over to the Kinsmen, Willis told the councillors.

Trial set for Thursday

A trial date of February 18 has been set for 32 year old Leonard Stamp of Haliburton on a charge of attempted murder.

The trial was ordered by Judge George Inrig following a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Provincial Court in Minden.

Stamp was charged following the shooting incident in Dysart Township November 4. According to police, Mervyn Roberts, 52, was hit in the hand by a blast from a 12 gauge shotgun after a man entered his home.

The preliminary hearing was held to determine if enough evidence existed to warrant a trial. Judge Inrig ruled that there was. Publication of evidence presented during a preliminary hearing is forbidden until the conclusion of the trial.

The case will be heard in Lindsay court.

The investigating officers are Constables Brian Ladurantaye and Mike Legge of Minden OPP.

Snow causes more headaches

Heavy snowfall in the Minden area this winter have created problems for government and private snowplough operators. One municipal snowplough has been out of service all winter, and while there is some concern over where snow can be safely dumped, at least one private operator has been criticized for improper removal of snow.

The Minden OPP have warned snowplough operator Jim Garbutt against pushing snow across cleared municipal roads. It was claimed that this action left additional snow on the already ploughed streets. Garbutt was on hand at last Wednesday's meeting of council to defend his practices to Superintendent of Roads, Earl Kent.

Garbutt complained that objections against his snow ploughing have been taken directly to the OPP without first going to either Earl Kent or himself. Garbutt, who has cleared snow in Minden for ten years said he would prefer to respond personally to allegations against, him, rather than face the $28.50 fine from the OPP. In addition, Garbutt feels the complaints are unfounded; he told council, "I haven't left as much snow on the road in all my years as some people leave in a snowfall."

Kent expressed concern to Garbutt that snow pushed across cleared roads can freeze and become hard enough to bend the frames of vehicles which hit them unawares. Garbutt responded by saying that only traffic breaking speed limits in the village would be in danger of bending frames.

Pad clearing

Council also received a request from Earl Hewitt of the Minden Red Cross Society regarding the helipad at the local Red Cross Hospital. Maintenance staff have had trouble with the snowclearer at the hospital,

Gas tank leaks - 9000 litres lost

Approximately 9000 litres (2000 gallons) of gasoline leaked from a storage tank at John Francis Fuels depot, south of Minden Tuesday afternoon and evening. The loss is estimated at $3,600.

According to the operator of the Gulf oil products dealer, the leak was noticed Tuesday afternoon at approximately 3 p.m. The fuel had escaped from a hole in the tank. Francis said there appeared to be no damage to the pipes leading into the reservoir.

After the leak was noticed, employees managed to pump the remaining 5500 gallons from the tank.

Representatives of the Ministry of Environment were on hand at the depot as clean-up operations began Tuesday evening. Fifteen workmen, using shovels, removed the gasoline soaked snow from under and around the tank. It was then transported by dump truck to the Minden dump. According to an MOE official, the gasoline will evaporate from the snow. Some may soak into the ground at the dump, but it will break down.

While the clean-up operation took place, a fire truck from Minden and several members of the department were standing by in case of an accident.

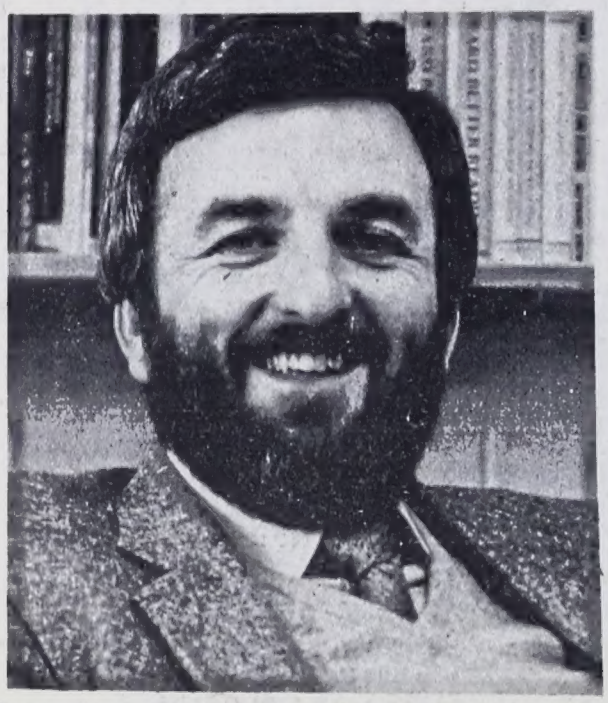
Spectators are invited to watch the action throughout the day with local fans especially being encouraged to come out and support the Minden team.

Federation president travels Ontario explaining teachers' stand on issues

Duncan Jewel certainly has his work cut out for him this year.

In a winter of record snowfalls throughout the province Jewel is on the road almost five days a week, visiting nearly half of the 75 school districts in the province to meet with teachers and observe classes in public schools in every corner of Ontario. Jewel is president of the Ontario Public Schools Mens' Teachers Federation (OPSMTF) and Thursday he was in Haliburton County visiting schools in Cardiff, Haliburton and Minden to discuss issues ranging from professional development seminars to special education legislation.



Duncan Jewel, of Public School Men Teacher's Federation.

14,600 teachers in Ontario belong to OPSMTF, but that's only a small portion of the 102,000 teachers in the province. Where are all the rest? OPSMTF is one of five teachers' federations in the province, and if seems strange that men and women teachers, Catholic and French teachers, and secondary school teachers all have their own federations, the reasons are not precisely clear to anyone.

The Ontario Secondary Schools teachers were the first to form a teachers' federation in the province. The OPSMTF came along in 1921, and the women's federation (OPSWTF) formed either shortly afterwards or one year before, depending on who you ask; the two federations can't quite agree which came first. In 1944, the Ontario Teachers' Federation was formed to take in all three, but it didn't stop there. Sometime later teachers at both English Catholic and French-speaking schools in the province formed their own organizations, and today all five are independent affiliates of the OTF.

Why five federations in one province? Jewel would personally like to see a single federation encompassing all, but there is resistance to the idea from both the provincial government and the other four affiliates. All federations in the province feel they are protecting special interests by remaining independent. And from the government's point of view, five federations are more easily handled than a single organization of 102,000 members. The diversification of power suits government perfectly.

But there is important interaction between the various federations. According to Jewel, there is some cooperation of administrations at a provincial level, but most of the important work is done locally in districts such as Haliburton. One such example is Professional Development Day, a series of workshops, speakers and films planned for February 15 in Haliburton by a joint committee of teachers from the men's and women's federations.

Professional Development Day is a good indication of the services which the teachers' federations provide for their members. Every August at their conference in Toronto the OPSMTF holds workshops and seminars covering areas like stress in education, administrative responsibility, school law, and leadership training for teachers aiming for principal or vice-principal positions. There are also two forty-five hour university courses made available through OPSMTF. PRIDE, which stands for Professional Refinements in Developing Education, and Project TEACH, Teacher Effectiveness and Classroom Handling, are the names given to these courses. They both result in salary increases for teachers who complete the courses.

Jewel says at least 40¢ of the federation's budget goes towards professional development activities such as Professional Development Days. Each member of OPSMTF contributes 1% of his yearly salary as membership fee, and as a result the OPSMTF has a yearly budget of 4.2 million dollars. Professional growth programs are only one area of four in which the federation is involved. The OPSMTF is instrumental in negotiations with Boards of Education. It also provides a political liason with the Ministry of Education, political parties and the other four federations. In communications services, the OPSMTF publishes a newsletter every two weeks and a newspaper six times a year.

Jewel feels the OPSMTF is playing an important role where government legislation is concerned. Bill 82, a provincial government bill introduced in 1979 to ensure access to special education for all students provincewide, is currently being examined by the federation. Jewel says that the federation supports the bill in concept, but he is concerned about the way it is to be implemented. The provincial government will provide $10 per student to bring in the bill, a subsidy which will go towards the costs of identifying and evaluating students with special needs, as well as the work of special education committees. Jewel says that the extra work this requires of teachers and administrators is simply not covered by the $10 per student which the bill allots, and he is concerned about the fate of the average student while so much work is being done on special students.

"My members are saying, 'Forget the bureaucracy. Just let me work with my exceptional students' ", Jewel explains. The OPSMTF has commissioned a major study to examine the effectiveness of having an exceptional student in a regular class environment.

Bowlathon raises funds for Big Brothers Association

This past Saturday, February 13, the Carnarvon Five Pin Bowlers Association held their second annual Big Brothers Bowl for Millions.

Haliburton Rotary made a big contribution this year, outdoing their Minden counterparts $188 to $108. Stanhope Reeve Jim Harrison topped both Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lloyd Walker and Reeve Murray Fearrey of Dysart et al.

In the Commercial Businesses section, it was Audrey Fountain of Audrey's Consignment Store way out ahead of all pledges with $221.71, followed by Pat Lichty and Carol Miles of the Brown Owl, who collected $82.08. Carol Toye bowled for the I.G.A., Fred Cox represented The Times and John Pentney was on hand for Home Hardware.

Bowling for the leagues were the following: Ev Stata with $115.90 for the Wednesday Afternoon (winning the trophy for the second year in a row); Earl Gibbons of the Dorset League followed closely at $102.90; Hilda McFarlane for the Vankoughnet League; Virna Wagg represented the Tuesday Afternoon league; Luther Wilson and Isabel Clay bowled for Golden Age 2 and 1 respectively. Grenville Barry bowled for the Mens Commercial league, Debbie Hardy for Ingoldsby, Freida Handy for Thursday Ladies and Susan Robinson for Tuesday Night. A number of young bowlers, members of the Saturday morning YBC also collected pledges and bowled for Big Brothers.

Also bowling in the Saturday event were a number of Big Brothers. Ted Reid and Al Oakley of Big Brothers worked with Bowlathon Chairman Ron Robinson Sr. to organize the event. The Bowlathon also received substantial support from service clubs and local businesses. Total pledges collected will be known once all pledge sheets are in.

Correction

In a report on Snowarama, appearing in last week's edition of The Times, it was stated that Dell Taylor brought in the highest number of pledges at the Minden end of the ride. While her $1,565.50 in pledges proved to be one of the largest totals, Bill Seedhouse of Mississauga led the riders in pledges. He registered with $2200 in pledges. We apologise to Bill for this error and congratulate both riders for a job well done.

Purchasing lights could save township $2700

Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council is making plans to purchase its street lighting systems from Ontario Hydro in a scheme that will save the municipality over $2700 each year. The proposal, which was introduced at the February 10 meeting of council, will cost the municipality close to $14,000.

Minden council is billed $2733 each year by Hydro for costs which Hydro incurred when installing the Minden system. There is also a $2 fee charged to the municipality for each of the 118 poles which Hydro owns, as well as an annual $4.50 charge for maintenance costs of each of the 136 lights. The $4.50 figure does not include labour for repairs.

According to councillor Ed Pergolas, who has met with Hydro officials to formulate the purchasing plan, council can buy the system on a five year debenture scheme and eliminate the $2,733 yearly payments to Hydro. Hydro has priced the option at $13,954, a cost which is depreciated against Hydro's original capital investment of close to $25,000.

Pergolas told council that, while the overall maintenance and rental costs of $6.50 per pole would still apply, the debenture payment to buy the system would undercut the $2,733 currently paid as capital carrying charges.

Pergolas told council that the interest on the $13,934 debenture would be roughly $2,000 and the payment on the principle sum, $2,800. He etimated that the first year outlay of $4,800 would be reduced significantly by the second year.

The Minden system consists of 136 poles, of which 11 are owned by Bell and 7 by the municipality. The purchase plan introduced by Pergolas applies only to the Minden system.

The Carnarvon system consists of 12 lights and costs the municipality $406 in capital carrying charges each year. The purchase price of the Carnarvon system is $2,176.

Figures for Ingoldsby are expected to be available at the next meeting of council on February 24. Council will then review the information supplied by Hydro regarding all three systems, and discuss further moves to purchase the systems from Hydro.

Council approves appointments

A number of appointments were approved at the February 10 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council. The appointments cover council committees, municipal boards and township representation on local organizations. Among the appointments approved were:

- Councillor Ed Pergolas will serve as the municipality's representative on the Minden and District Horticultural Society.
- By-law enforcement officer Dick Schell was named Wolf Bounty Officer.
- Reeve Lloyd Walker and Councillor Lyle McKnight will be the municipality's representatives on the Minden Red Cross Society.
- Reeve Lloyd Walker, Deputy - Reeve Doug Pritchard, Councillor Lyle McKnight and by-law enforcement officer Dick Schell will review application for assistance under the Ontario Home Renewal Program.
- Gord Monk, Al Rogers and Jeanette Payne were appointed to the Minden Cemetery Board. Also serving will be Deputy - Reeve Doug Pritchard and Councillor Larry Cummins.
- Members of the Minden Library Board for 1982 will include Irene Moore, Shirley Magee, Mae Wolfraim, and Harold Morgan with Reeve Lloyd Walker.
- The Museum Committee for 1982 will include: Aileen Blears, Wendy Wilkins, Howard Clyde, Laura Kirkwood and Jennie Hagan.
- Municipal representtives to the Minden Curling and Recreation Club for 1982 will be Deputy - Reeve Doug Pritchard and Councillor Larry Cummins.

As well, the council appointed a number of municipal committees which included:

- Property, streetlights and sidewalks: Doug Pritchard and Larry Cummins.
- By-laws: Ed Pergolas.
- Roads and parks: Lloyd Walker and Lyle McKnight.
- Water and sewers: Lloyd Walker, Lyle McKnight and Ed Pergolas.
- Fire department: Doug Pritchard and Larry Cummins.
- Ambulance: Larry Cummins.
- Waste management: Larry Cummins.
- Finance: Ed Pergolas and Lyle McKnight.

The council approved as well a resolution establishing a committee to oversee the operation of the new Minden Library and Cultural Centre. The co-ordinating committee will have authority over the management and use of the building. Membership on the co-ordinating committee will be drawn from the following sources: senior citizen's club (2); art gallery committee (2); library board (2); museum committee (2); and one each from the following groups; township council, Women's Institute, horticultural society, craft club.

Snow

and Garbutt has been doing the job. According to Hewitt, two recent helicopter evacuations in Haliburton would have been hampered if they were necessary in Minden, due to snow on the pad.

The pad has since been cleared.

The municipality also faces a problem with clearing snow from the parking lot at the senior citizen's apartments at the turn off to the Minden Recreation Centre. Garbutt admitted to pushing snow from the lot across to the library, but he claimed the move was necessary since an ambulance had been stuck there earlier. Garbutt commented that the corner at the Recreation Centre turnoff is too narrow, and restricted vision there is a hazard to motorists.

Road crews have since cleared the excessive snow from the roadside.

The snow clearing problems may ease a little in coming months, however. The department of roads took delivery Monday of a new truck equipped with a plough. The department is now back to its full complement of three ploughs, and Superintendent Kent said Monday that the new truck is ready to roll this week.

Longer hours for Minden dumpsite

The Scotch Line dumpsite will have new hours effective this week, following a decision made by Anson, Hindon and Minden Council at the February 10 meeting. The dump, which has undergone several changes in operation in the past months, will now be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The move comes as a response to complaints from citizens about the former hours of 1 - 5 p.m. At a public forum held by council last November, several residents voiced objections to the short hours, saying that the limited opening creates problems for working people attempting to use the facility during the week.

The council recently received several recommendations for improvements to the dump from the Ministry of Environment (MOE), following a series of problems with fires at the site. The Ministry recommended that the gate be locked while the site was unattended, and that the dump face be covered daily with fill.

Fires at the dump were being caused by the dumping of ashes at the site and by persons setting them deliberately.

The current dump manager, Art Austin, is on contract from the council to work 28 hours a week at the dump. In order to facilitate the new hours, council has hired an additional caretaker. Jack Stephenson, on township wages. Austin, who will now oversee the hours from two to six, will remain responsible for fire control at the dump during his working hours.

Council also moved to install a new sign at the dump informing users that it is unlawful to leave garbage outside the gate. Council also discussed the possibility of a two-day closure of the dump each week, as well as introducing a fee to be charged for each load brought to the dump.

Decisions on these matters are still pending.

Leak

Fortunately, there was no problem and the initial clean-up was completed by 10 p.m.

The gasoline was contained in the immediate area of the leaking tank by a dyke system. MOE officials were expected to examine the soil under the tanks Wednesday to determine if further measures would be required to remove any gasoline which may have soaked into the soil.

Giving

It is unfortunate that individuals in the Haliburton Highlands are denied an opportunity to, with a minimum of fuss, give the gift of life. As a report in last week's edition of this newspaper pointed out, problems of transporting the donated blood to processing centres has left this part of Ontario outside the potential area for donors.

Without having undertaken a formal survey, we believe the Red Cross would find many willing donors in this area. The organization commands the respect of Highlands' residents. They have known the Red Cross as a friend in the provision of health service through its outpost hospitals for many years. We feel sure that a local clinic would attract enough donors to more than make it worthwhile.

Those who tune in Toronto media cannot help but be moved by the endless pleas for more donors to come forward. They are pleas which county residents, as individuals, find difficult, if not impossible, to answer.

The one possible solution is for some group or service club to organize a bus excursion to transport the willing donors to Lindsay or Peterborough. It would certainly be a worthwhile project which would allow area residents to contribute to the well-being of the province and help ease the shortage of this vital of all commodities.

Savings make sense

Plans by the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden to purchase the street lighting systems in the village, Carnarvon and Ingoldsby make sense. Both Councillor Ed. Pergolas who ferreted out the details and the other members of council who gave the plan a positive reception Wednesday, deserve congratulations.

Under the plan, the township would purchase the system from Ontario Hydro and will end up paying less per year in purchase payments than is currently being charged now. The savings could amount to $2,700 per year once the township has completed the five year purchase agreement.

There are tough economic times which will require innovation and imagination on the part of our elected representatives. This program is a good example of such thinking. We can't help but wonder however, how much more the municipality could save by taking a close look at other expenditures?

People are our strength

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Rarely through this column do I quote excerpts from speeches of political leaders.

Recently, Stuart Smith resigned as the leader of the party I represent, and following his last speech to the Legislature on December 18, 1981, he was given an ovation by all members of all parties in the House. This once, I would like to quote from his address, in which he expressed the belief that our greatest asset is the people of Ontario - people who should have more confidence in their own abilities.

Following are some excerpts from his December 18 speech.

"I am very impressed with the people of this province... reflect for a moment about the people of Ontario - the farmers, the miners, the loggers, the people who have shown tremendous courage, tremendous steadfastness, great rockhard integrity - people who have a willingness to work, to face difficulties.

"...Our immigrant communities are a source of enormous energy, power and strength. I sometimes have the sense that we are not harnessing that sufficiently..."

"I look at our young people...who have a great optimism about the world. They want to contribute. They have energy. They have enthusiasm. They have tremendous natural talent... They have a tremendous generation of people. It honestly worries me...that all of us collectively are not perhaps providing the system these young people are going to need if they are to bring their talents, their enthusiasm and their desire to bear to make a maximum contribution to our society and its advancement.

"I look at our factory workers. I hear all kinds of things about unions, about strikes and everything else. But comparing our factory workers to any group of industrial workers in the world I think they are a very law-abiding, basically very loyal group of people who, if given proper direction and management want to do a decent job."

"Why have we not harnessed the vitality of our people into tough competitive teams that could take on the best the industrialized world has to offer?"

"...Somehow we as Canadians have come to define ourselves in terms of our land, our geography, our water, our mountains and our forests... we do not have that same inner confidence as people as we have in the very geography, the topography of the nation. It is a subtle thing. Even the confidence we do have in ourselves as individuals usually relates to our sense of ourselves as being able to survive in a sometimes barren, tough, desolate and frequently cold existence as happened with our pioneer forefathers and happens now in many Canadian communities.

"Even when we do have confidence, it is freqently in terms of our response to the land rather than our sense of ourselves as being ingenious, shrewd, tough, clever or competitive. We rarely think of ourselves in those terms. The immigrant communities do, but strangely, we do not. We think of ourselves more as enduring, as lasting despite the tough winter's night most of us have to go through. It is a strange aspect of the Canadian cultural mentality.

"If we continue that way, little by little our industries will grind down, our young people will go West, our country will become more of a portion of a continentalist entity, our autonomy will be less and less meaningful and Ontario will play a much lesser role than need be in our great country of Canada.

"The answer is for us to have as much confidence in ourselves as people as we have in the land and its resources so that we can marshal those resources to our benefit. That means we must organize ourselves. We must work with our financial elite to make certain it is the Canadian entrepreneur who is given the break. We must see the world as having potential for our market...train our young people...take risks.

"We must tell our story, have national heroes, teach our history in the schools, tell the story of financial and personal successes, make Canadians proud of our people, not just our territory and the great land the Lord has given us, but rather, in addition to that, make us proud of ourselves as people who can take on all comers.

"We are going to have to live by our wits...and our ingenuity...to have confidence in ourselves as people. We are going to have to invest in our people, train them, organize them, learn to work together in different groups and basically see ourselves as...every bit as good, as tough, as clever and as competitive as any people on the face of this earth.

"If we do that, with the gifts we have already received by being citizens of this great province in this wonderful country, I am convinced we can make a future for our children that is even greater than any that has been dreamed of in the past."

Snow...

according to the students of Mrs. Hicks' Grade 3 class at Archie Stouffer School

Snow

Snow is fun on a sunny day. I skip through the field while I laugh and play. Oh! if I could ever say, The snow is a trifle gay and when I come back I jump in the hay. In our bird house there's a nice blue jay.

Dustin Davis

Snow is white and fluffy, Just like a little white kitten. It falls from time to time. You never know when. Snow is white and it can't change to blue or yellow and all sorts of colours unless you paint it.

By Kelly Newell

One day I went out side. It was snowing. I made a snowman. I put a black hat on the snowman and a carrot for a nose and two rocks for eyes and a broom in his hand. When it was bedtime I dreamed about the story of when the snowman danced around. I wished my snowman would do that for me.

Tammy Walker

Winter Fun

I like snow because it is white and I can slide down it. You can make snowmen out of it too. I like icicles because they are sort of like pieces of spagetti..

Patty Amyotte

Winter is the time of year when skating, tobogganing, and ski-dooing is all you do. You go skating all the time, go down steep hills for toboggan rides, out in the cool night air for ski-doo rides, up in the morning bright and early and go for a ski-doo ride. Go up on a hill out in the bush, see some deer by the brook.

Melanie Maxwell

Snow

Snow is white. Snow is bright. Snow is packy. Snow is smacky. You can even eat it if you like. You can make a snow-man how ever you like. The snow-man is white. He even has a corn cob pipe and a carrot nose and two little black buttons for his eyes and little red boots and little green mittens. Arlene Simmons

It's snowing. It's blowing.
All the children are having fun. Look at them go.
Run! Run! Run!
It's snowing. It's blowing.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

Haliburton Highlands

It has long been the contention of many, including our own provincial member, John Eakins, that the Ministry of Industry & Tourism should be split into two ministries. It is gratifying to see that it is now being done and we would hope that tourism now will acquire a higher profile in Queen's Park as a result.

Actually even at the present time the Ministry of Industry and Tourism has already been split, from the two assistant deputy ministers on down. We have had two ministry consultants, one from industry and one from tourism, working with us out of Peterborough. About the only immediate change is that the two consultants may not continue to share the same secretary.

We look forward with anticipation to the new structures in hopes that it will bring a more logical and productive approach towards development in both of these sectors.

An evening for Bruce & Marion

As we mentioned here last week Bruce & Marion Henry have sold Halimar Resort and are retiring to a new home adjacent to Halimar on the shores of Lake Kashagawigamog. Having operated the business for over 30 years they have made a great number of friends both here in this community and throughout the industry in Ontario. Some of those friends are now organizing a special evening to recognize their retirement and pay their sincere respects to Bruce & Marion.

"An Evening for Bruce & Marion" will be held on Sunday, March 7 at Wig-A-Mog Inn commencing with a reception at 5:00 p.m. and followed by a buffet dinner. New owners Guy and Wendy Ramsay will also be in attendance and they look forward to meeting many of you. The cost is $10.00 per person and tickets may be reserved by calling either the Chamber at 286-1760 or Wig-A-Mog Inn at 457-2000.

Knowing Bruce and Marion as we do, and the host of well wishers we expect to see there this is bound to be an evening to be long remembered by both themselves and all those in attendance.

Economic forecast

It is becoming a real guessing game as to what is going to happen with our sick economy and what, if anything, the government is going to do to deal with it. The Cambridge Chamber of Commerce recently hosted a function at which their guest speaker was Mort Shulman and he, as usual, had some predictions. He said that within the next 10 months we will see the government lower the interest rates, reintroduce wage and price controls and the Canadian dollar would be pegged at .75¢ U.S.

With these restraint measures he predicted that we would get along quite well for about three years, and then once again we would experience difficulties as they attempted to lift controls. It will certainly be interesting to watch and see how close he comes to calling this one.

A tourist's comment

A visitor from New York State said to us yesterday, "These ski trails are among the best we have seen anywhere, and we travel all over the country to go skiing. Whoever laid them out should be very proud of themselves."

He was talking of the Lake Kashagawigamog and Glebe Park trail network and went on to say that he hoped we realized what a valuable asset they were. What more can we say?

Balloon at the Carnival - we hope

The Haliburton Winter Carnival gets rolling this week and among some of the new features will be the Skyslider balloon, (weather permitting). The balloon was also scheduled for the Minden Carnival but was unable to operate due to the severe weather.

This will be an excellent opportunity to view the crowd pleasing attraction that will be flying our "Haliburton Highlands - Yours to Discover" message at shopping malls across Metro shortly.

We are pleased to announce that as of Monday morning our $8000 target for this project has been reached. Further donations will still be gratefully accepted and used toward the assembly of an attractive information kiosk to take to the malls.

Let's hear it for all of you who made this super promotional endeavour possible.

Collision causes $3000 damage

Two people received minor injuries in a head-on collision that caused $3,000 damage.

Drew Carey, 23, of Haliburton, was rounding a curve on Kashagawigamog Lake Road Saturday afternoon when his 1976 Mercury was struck by an oncoming car driven by Emile Frenette of Kapuskasing. Carey's passenger, Karen Carey, 22, also of Haliburton, was slightly injured. Frenette's passenger, Conrad Savage of Kapuskasing, also received minor injuries. Both drivers were unharmed.

Fenette was charged by Constable Brian Dunham with driving left of centre. Both vehicles sustained $1,500 damage in the crash.

Truck stalls

Saturday evening was a bad time for trucker Keith Rowden of Stanhope Township. Rowden was climbing a steep hill in his 1979 International logging truck with a full load of logs in the back when the vehicle stalled.

The truck rolled backwards down the hill and stopped in a ditch at the bottom. The impact of the sudden stop pushed the logs through the cab of the truck and caused an estimated $15,000 damage.

Constable Jim Solway of the Minden OPP investigated the incident, which occurred on a logging road in Guilford Township.

Work progresses on memorial

Readers will recall that last summer we featured a report on Minden native George Pratt. An accomplished sculptor, George has moved to Vancouver where he has his studio.

George has been working on a very special project since last May when he started to carve a likeness of Terry Fox from a massive piece of granite.

The following is a report prepared by George Pratt on the progress of the work and a comment on the financial needs of the project.

The work has been in progress since May 20, 1981, being therefore a total of about nine months. I had hoped to complete the work while Terry was still alive, and as it was clear that he was failing, the activity at my yard in those first four weeks was perfectly frantic. His tragic death on June 28 saddened the world as it surely did me - but the pressure to finish was of course alleviated.

I was pleased to be able to slow down - I had chosen granite for the work because as well as being a handsome stone it represents increasing endurance - a quality exemplified by Terry Fox. I soon found out that it also represents the hardest physical work a stone-carver can do - every chip is the product of nothing else but tenacity and muscle.

Lucky for me I have both, if not a surfeit of brains!

Anyway, the present pace is much more in keeping with the abilities of my 42-year-old body, and with young Michael Binkley (a graduated apprentice) helping, we expect to finish about the end of March.

The arms and legs are pretty much blocked out now and it remains to trim and balance the whole and execute the painstaking job of carving the facial expression - all interesting work.

The sculpture has been funded mainly by private solicitation among those who collect my work. Many who receive this letter have already made contributions. These are placed in an account at First City Trust and disbursments are made by me as necessary to finance the project. I keep a strict accounting of the funds and an audit will be undertaken at the completion of the work.

I have a contract with the Cancer Society for the special purpose of providing tax-deductible receipts for your donations - if you have not received yours, please be assured it is in the mill.

Money still needed

But money is still needed - in fact, I'm getting desperate, as the account is bone-dry and there are bills to pay. The base for the sculpture is now under consideration - it will be black sawn granite, assembled to symbolize the highway - and I expect it to cost about $18,000. A similar amount will be needed to complete the main body of the sculpture - that is not to say that work will stop for lack of money - it goes on credit and nerve but I only have so much of both.

So if anyone out there would feel moved to make a financial donation, please do it now! Cheques should be made payable to "The Friends of George Pratt" as this is the name under which the Trust Account was opened. To date, most individual donations have been $100, several much larger. A few friends who are heads of corporations have "syndicated" as much as $5,000 from their employees and associates - and there is the heart-wrenching letter in my file from a mentally handicapped friend who saw Terry Fox on the highway - along with her $20.

Whatever your donation, please, it must not be to the diminishment of your normal contribution to the legitimate campaign of The Cancer Society. Heart Fund, etc. This is a special and separate project.

I plan a private unveiling and dedication ceremony in (I think) April. There will be no "officials" or "politicals" or "important" people there. Just the Fox family and the 150 or so donors. As the work progresses and it becomes clear when the appropriate date would be, information and invitations will be sent out. Until the 15th of February visitors to the yard are welcome - after that, no more peeking until unveiling!

(Cheques can be sent to "The Friends of George Pratt", 2977 West 27th Avenue, Vancouver, British Columbia, V6L 1W4).

Former Minden resident George Pratt has chipped away approximately 12,000 pounds of granite in his effort to create a sculpture of Terry Fox. Pratt is seen at work with a drawing in the background he is using as a model.

Atom

The Minden Atoms had a rough time in Omemee Monday, February 8. Minden was outshot 50 - 4 and the Atoms returned after three periods defeated by a score of 19 - 2. Scott Russell had both goals for Minden, with Tom Heppleston getting two assists and Joey Boyle and Robie Ackerblade getting one each.

The Atoms had more success against Bobcaygeon on the road Friday. Kent Taylor had a big game in the Minden nets, while Joey Boyle and Scott Russell assisted on each others' goals. The tie brings the Atoms playoff record to 1 win, 1 loss and 1 tie.

Pee Wees

The Pee Wees dropped a playoff game to Orono Monday, going down 5 - 2 against the home team.

The two teams were scoreless in the first period. Orono picked up two straight in the second. They added two more in the third before Minden finally found the mark at 5:05. Orono added another at 2:49 and Minden's last tally came with a minute and a half left.

Captain Gord Wood had both goals for Minden. Tom MacLeod assisted on both and Shawn Best helped set up the first.

Bantam

The Bantams were in fine style in Bobcaygeon Thursday, dealing their opponents an 8 - 3 loss. Craig Burk topped Minden scoring with four goals and linemate Greg Newell racked up three goals and an assist.

Minden went up 4 - 0 after the first period. Newell opened scoring at 1:05 on an assist from Jeff Howe. Mike Gorveatt had the second for Minden from Glenn Hall and Paul Walker. Newell's second came unassisted at 5:32 and Burk finished off the scoring at 6:54 on an assist from Jeff Howe.

Burk got his second at 4:15 of the second period from John Ballantyne and Greg Newell. Bobcaygeon finally got on the scoreboard at 6:11 on a power play. The period ended 5 - 1 Minden.

Burk combined with Newell early in the third to make it 6 - 1. Newell came back with a goal from Paul Walker and Daryl Ward on a power play before Bobcaygeon got their second goal at 6:09. Burk connected with Gorveatt and Ballantyne to finish Minden's scoring. Bobcaygeon got a final power play goal at 14:33 and Minden won it 8 - 3.

The Bantams' playoff record now stands at two wins and two losses.

Midget

The Minden Midgets dropped a close decision to Bewdley February 8, going down 5 - 4.

The teams were tied after one period after Jeff Stamp made it 1 - 1 on assists from Wade Barry and goalie Brett Foster with the team shorthanded.

Bewdley opened the second with two straight goals before Tim Wood responded for Minden on an assist from Scott Hamilton. Bewdley capitalized on a power play to end the second ahead 4 - 2.

Jeff Stamp had a big third period for Minden. He completed a hat-trick with two straight goals to tie the game at four. Rob MacLeod assisted on both and Scott Hamilton helped set up the tieing goal.

A late penalty hurt Minden however. At 14:43 Bewdley got what ended as the winning goal to take the game 5 - 4.

Minden bounced back Thursday with a high-scoring win against Sunderland on the road. The Midgets got their first playoff win with a 9 - 1 victory.

Andrew Shapiera had a three-goal game for Minden. Doug Schell popped in two and Scott Hamilton came through with two goals and two assists. Jeff Stamp contributed three assists to the winning effort and Harold Cowen had two. Tim Wood turned in one goal and one assist for Minden.

The game was never in much doubt for Minden. Up 4 - 0 after one and 7 - 0 after two, Minden had Sunderland 8 - 0 before the home team got their first and only goal at 10:58 of the third period. The win gives Minden a 1 win - 2 loss record in the playoffs.

Tyke

The Minden Tykes matched the Midgets' efforts Saturday with a 7 - 1 win over Lakefield at home. Greg Ackerblade had two goals for Minden while Derek Green, Chad Connelly and Cameron Berry all had a goal and an assist. Jeremy Phillips had the other marker for the Tykes. David Ackerblade was strong in goal for Minden.

The Tykes travel to Huntsville for a game February 20.

Novice

The Novices dropped their final game of the season Saturday in a 3 - 2 loss to Oakwood at home. Robie Ackerblade had both Minden goals and Jay Hughes assisted on one. The Novices now face a playoff series against Fenelon Falls.

Nicholls joins over 100 club

Huskies' winger Dave Nicholls has joined Ron Yake as the only players in the team's history to earn 100 points in a single season. Nicholls turned in a 10-point performance in weeekend Junior 'C' play to finish at 105 points, 17 behind linemate Yake.

The Huskies battled back from a 9 - 5 defeat in Oro Friday night and almost took the game by a goal, but Oro spoiled the lead with six seconds left and tied it 10-10. At home on Saturday the Huskies went down 6 - 4 to Penetang.

Oro opened Friday night scoring after a minute and a half of play after they turned the tables on Haliburton with a short-handed goal. Ron Yake evened the score for the Huskies at 4:12 on an assist from Dave Nicholls. Nicholls went on to earn four more assists and four goals against Oro that night.

Oro scored again half a minute after Yake's goal, but Haliburton responded with three straight to go ahead 4 - 2. Nicholls got his first goal from Yake and Tim Davies at 4:59, and the same line connected on a powerplay at 8:53. Davies got the goal on passes from Nicholls and Yake.

Yake then popped in a goal with the Huskies short-handed on assists from Nicholls and Duff Mitchell. Oro came within one with a goal at 12:37 but Scott Arbuthnot connected with Chris Hodgson to preserve the two-goal lead at 13:08. With Haliburton up 5 - 3, Oro rallied for two goals in the last three and a half minutes of play and the period ended with the teams tied at five.

Oro came on strong in the second period with four unanswered goals in the first eight minutes. The Huskies survived on an outstanding effort by Nicholls, who bagged three straight for Haliburton. Nicholls connected from Tim Davies at 8:46, and then combined twice with Ron Yake to make it 9 - 8 Oro at the 16:04 mark.

Haliburton continued the trend going into the third by getting two goals by the halfway mark. Nicholls was there again for Haliburton, setting up Tim Davies for the tieing goal at 4:23. Scott Arbuthnot put Haliburton in front 10 - 9 on passes from Nicholls and goalie Colin Newell, who got his first assist of the season after feeding Newell from the Huskies' net. Haliburton's lead looked strong for the last eight minutes but in the last minute the tide turned. Oro pulled their goalie and ended the Huskies' hopes with a tieing goal that came with 6 seconds to play.

Saturday game

Ed Davis had two goals for the Huskies Saturday night against Penetang and Darrin MacInnes had a goal and an assist, but Haliburton went down 4 - 3 halfway through the second period and never came back.

Davis got Haliburton's first goal after six minutes of the first period, with Shaun Chapman getting the assist. Penetang evened it with Haliburton a man short at 8:21, and got another at 12:12 with the teams even. The period ended with Penetang ahead 2-1.

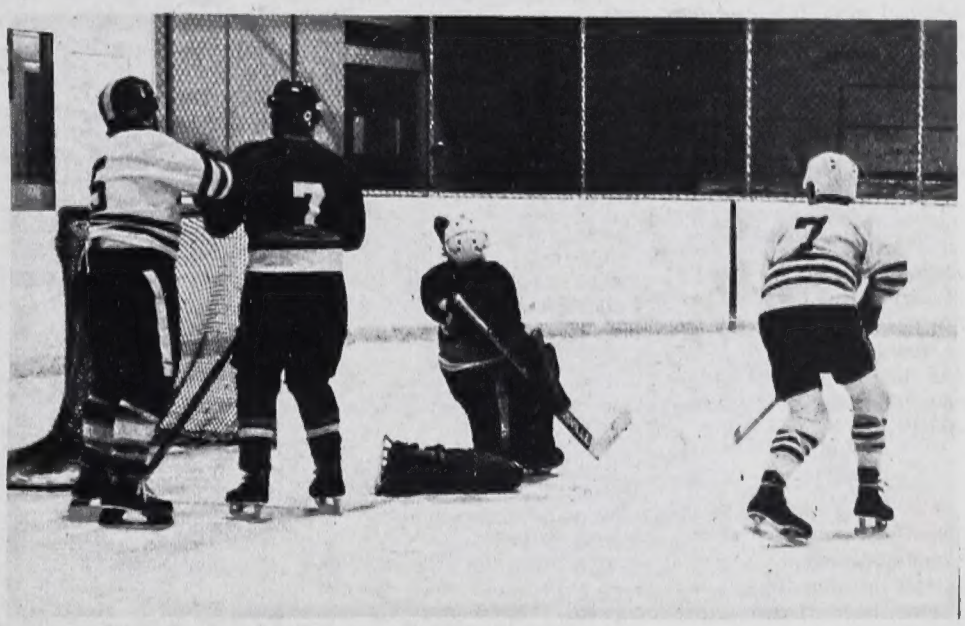
Penetang scored again five minutes into the second period, but Davis bagged his second goal half a minute later. With Haliburton down 3 - 2, Darrin MacInnes took a pass from Dave Nicholls to score on a power play effort that was again set up by the Huskies' goaltender, this time Greg Wood. It was Wood's second assist of the year.

With eight minutes left in the period it was Penetang's turn to capitalize on the power play. At 12:08 they went up 4 - 3 to stay.

Two more goals from Penetang in the third period finished it for Haliburton. At 16:31 Yake combined with Scott Arbuthnot and MacInnes but the Huskies couldn't get any closer. Penetang held them off for the final three and a half minutes and the game ended 6 - 4.

Friday's game against Oro cost Haliburton the services of Tim Davies, who injured his elbow and retired early from the game. Davies sat our the Penetang game but he is expected to play in Haliburton Wednesday night at 8;30 in a makeup game against the Gravenhurst Indians. Davies had a big night against Oro before his injury, scoring twice and getting as many assists. He finished Friday's contest with 98 points for the season, so he may soon join Yake and Nicholls in the 100-point bracket for the Huskies.

Following Wednesday's game the Huskies will travel to Gravenhurst for another match against the Indians. Sunday afternoon they are at home against Huntsville at 2:30.



Players look on as the Rockcliffe goaltender does a juggling act with the puck in the crease during Monday night's Men's Recreational League action. Hartwick took the Foamblowers 9-3, while Home Hardware defeated Halls Insurance 5-3 in the first night of league semi-finals.

The plan of survey referred to herein is available for perusal at the Municipal Offices during normal office hours.

February 7 we started off the week with a chapel service Sunday night, and the folks who put it on did it up just right. Mrs. Thompson helps in singing, and also does the playing; Harold Thompson reads the lesson, and also leads in praying. Then Rev. Burgess takes the floor, and is our special guest. If we'll confess our sins and say our prayers, we surely will be blessed.

Monday morning, fun and fitness. Then Monday afternoon, the ladies work really hard in the craft room. We watched three nice movies on Monday night.

Tuesday morning Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church held the service in the chapel here. We always welcome Rev. Wicks, he is so sincere. Our girls who come to play and sing add greatly to our service. They do their parts so very well, and don't seem one bit nervous.

Mrs. Knight had her ninety-seventh birthday one day last week. She reads without glasses, and always looks so neat.

Tuesday night Payne, Deacon and Crowe came to play and sing for us - put on a real good show.

Ted Carr is making bird houses, and flower baskets, too. He has just discovered he is allergic to the glue.

Just received word of the passing of Annie Fountain. She was a dear sweet lady. Our sympathy to her relations.

Wednesday afternoon in the crafts again, doing all kinds of fancy work - really no place for men.

Thursday afternoon is tea party time here at Hyland Crest. The Lutterworth Estate ladies came, and were our welcome guests. They brought us in a lovely lunch, and served it up so fine. We thank them all for coming, and giving of their time.

The Kinsmen Club of Minden put on the Bingo here last night. I wasn't there to see it, but they say they do it right.

Friday morning Fun and Fitness again - lots of ladies, but not many men. Friday afternoon was sing-song time again here. Mrs. Coburn and Mrs. Barron came to play and sing to give us much cheer. Mrs. Coburn sang two solos, which we enjoyed very much; Norma played so nicely - she really has the touch.

A New Day

The morning's here, another day,
The sun is shining through.
I left my worries all behind;
Today I start anew.
Until next time.

Beef grant deadline February 26

-Agricultural report-

February 26 is the deadline for farmers to apply for the 1981 beef cow calf assistance grant and for the 1980 stocker cattle assistance.

Any farmers who have not yet completed their application should do so right away and return it in person to their County Agricultural Office. Applications cannot be accepted after closing time on Friday, February 26.

The beef cow grants are in the amount of $40 per eligible cow for farmers who had at least 5 eligible cows in 1981. The cows had to be owned by the farmer on August 1, 1981, and must have had a calf at some time during the calendar year 1981.

Farmers who maintain a herd of cows from which they ship cream are also eligible for this grant.

The stocker assistance program is in the amount of $20.00 per eligible animal. To be eligible, the stocker calf was sold some time in the calendar year 1980, it weighed at least 600 lbs. when it was sold, and it was raised from cows kept on the farm of the applicant.

At least 10 eligible stockers had to be sold during 1980.

The application forms for both of these programs must be completed and then returned to the County Agricultural Office for certification by staff in the office before they are submitted to Toronto.

Over 800 farmers in Victoria and Haliburton Counties have applied for these grants to date.

Police called to arena over hockey brawl

Minden O.P.P. were called to the Haliburton arena Saturday afternoon after two team benches cleared in a brawl between Fenelon Falls and Minden during a Men's Recreational Hockey tournament.

The brawl broke out when two players on the Fenelon Falls team began fighting with members of the Minden team. The Fenelon Falls players left the bench to join the fight on the ice and after several minutes, the Minden bench cleared as well.

The Men's Recreational League is non-contact and no slapshots are permitted. Referees in league games are generally younger than the players.

Dean Curry, who refereed the Saturday game, could not stop the fighting. He and the second referee left the ice and the O.P.P. were called.

Minden O.P.P. spokesman Gary Chapman said that when Constable Al Bibby arrived at the arena, both teams had been banished to the dressing rooms. The game was completed when the referee allowed six players from each team to continue playing.

I saw a star slide down the sky,
Bleeding the North as it went by,
Too lovely to be bought or sold,
Too burning and too quick to hold,
Good only to make wishes on
And then forever to be gone.
